Dedication

WE, the class of "43", with a firm hope and ardent desire for Victory and world-lasting peace, greatly dedicate our year-book to our Principal, Rev. J. G. Bennett and our teachers, Sisters Theresa Marie and Anastasia. We also make a special dedication to the alumni of S. J. H. who are now in the services of the United States. It is through their shining example that we face the war-torn world with faith, courage and confidence.

Principal's Message

NO GRADUATION class in a generation has looked out of the classroom into a world so upset as the class of '43. Even before the school books are closed the manual of arms is thrust into student hands. It is all so confusing. After preparing for many years to live and work in the world that looked so inviting the young men see a world that is repugnant and instead of work and life they see disorder and death. Not death to all nor disorder that is beyond redemption. We hope that the percentage of those who must make the supreme sacrifice will be low. We believe that the disorder that stalks across the world will be removed and that the American way of life will find adherents in all parts of the world. And it is for the younger men and women of this nation to think well over the part they must play in the rebuilding of order and freedom. Apparently they step into a world which wants only their strength to fight, but in reality they are entering a world that needs their ambition and hope. To them will be given the task of forming the strong race that will be the solid foundation upon which the principles of free peoples must build. In less than a few years the shaping of the policies of the nation will be entrusted to them. In only a few years they will sit in the halls of government, man the industries of the country, control the flow of finance, and direct the thoughts of the people. In the meantime they must keep their thoughts above the brutish business of destruction and view the present strife more as a preliminary clearing away of obstacles than as the main business of their lives. Let them consider the present turmoil as a graduate school in which they learn that all that is worth anything is worth the labor and energy it takes to preserve it. Let them learn that the weight of material strength will never crush the power of the spirit. Let them learn that Almighty God who gave man his free will, also made freedom the heritage that is worth more than all the coin of the world. Let the girls who this year take their places in a troubled world guide the minds of the next generation in the way of justice to the end that our priceless freedom may be preserved. Let all know and understand that the world is the handiwork of God and unless it give Him obedience and honor it fails in its ordained destiny, and must be torn with dissension until it recognizes its Creator.

Our Church

OUR CHURCH has been to us for many years a place of comfort and rest. It is here we take our troubles and come out feeling much happier and more confident in ourselves.

Our Lord is always waiting there for us willing to help us if only we ask. Our church will guide us to heaven when we are out in the wide world.

Our School

Our school has stood for many years,
Before we stepped inside the door.
Its memory will remain with us,
Throughout the years and evermore.

"Tis here we shared our joys and tears,
And many happy times we had,
So in parting we all know
Our hearts will be a little sad.

Just as the ones who've gone before
Into the world so far and wide,
We'll not forget our dear old school
And think of it with joy and pride.

And so St. Joseph's School, to you
We pledge ourselves to do our best
Soon we hope we'll reach our goal
And take our place among the rest.

BEVERLY CLARK

"Sweet and gentle were her ways"

Beverly Clark was known to her classmates as just "Clark." She was chairman of many social activities during her four years in school. She was elected president of the Busy Bee Club in her junior year, and treasurer in the sophomore year.

She showed her acting ability by taking part in many one-act plays. Beverly played the part of "Emma", the maid in "The Dummy" and she also performed a great part in the senior class play.

We wish you much success in the future.

LEON GINGERY

"It is more noble to make yourself great than to be born so"

Leon Gingery, who answers to the call of "Prof" was an active student in every event during his four years of high school. During his freshman year he was chosen class president by his classmates. He showed exceptional ability in everything he undertook in his high school life. He was president of the Busy Bee Club in his senior year. He showed his acting ability as "Tommy" in the senior class play of '42, "Love Troubles Tommy," but his greatest achievement came as "Monk Nicoletti," a gang leader in the senior class play of '43.

May success be yours.

CHARLES MANSFIELD

"It's serving, striving, through strain and stress, It's doing your noblest—that's Success"

Charles Mansfield, known as Charlie, is a well known person around S. J. H. He took active part in both social and business affairs of the school. One of his most important achievements was the editing of the "Signet." He also was a successful treasurer of the Busy Bee Club during his sophomore year.

Charlie proved that he could act by excellently taking to the part of an understanding father, Fred Sanders, in "Love From Bud". He also did his best in the senior class play, "It Might Happen To You" when he took the part of "Victor Johnson," a henpecked husband.

May the best of everything be yours,
Charlie.

MARY HELEN MILLER

"It's the set of the soul that decides the goal and not the calm or the strife"

Mary Helen, better known to her classmates as "Miller" is a very active student of S. J H. She has been chairman of many successful activities. She was editor of the school paper.

Because of her acting ability Mary Helen has taken part in many plays. She played the part of Catherine in "The Ghost in the Green Gown," and Mrs. Andrews in "Are We Dressing?"

May God bless you!

COLLINS REDMOND

"A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands"

"Collie" often heard around the school grounds refers to none other than Collins Redmond. He took an active part in all the social and business affairs of the school. He proved himself an asset to any committee.

Collins was given special recognition for the decoration of the junior-senior banquet of the year of '42. At that time he was the president of the junior class.

He revealed his acting ability in "Rats" when he took the part of George, an inventor.

"Smile at the future, Collins, and your troubles will fade in the past."

CHARLES SEIFERT

"For all your days prepare,
And meet them ever alike"

Charles Seifert was generally known as "Si" or "Charlie." "Always active might have been his motto" because he was always willing to cooperate and assist in the many projects which were undertaken, from school parties to candy sales, public dinners and bazaars.

He took part in several one-act plays but his best acting ability was shown as Sam Stevens in "Love Troubles Tommy," the senior class play of 1942 and as "Nick," a gangster in the senior class play of 1943.

He was vice-president of his class in his freshman year and treasurer of the Busy Bee Club in 1942.

We'll miss you, Charlie. May success be your companion in the future.

LADONNA SHOUEL

"Smile at the past and you can grin at the future"

Ladonna Shoudel, better known to her classmates as "Toar" was a very active person during her four years of high school. She was business manager of the S. J. H. Signet in her senior year, vice-president of her class in her junior year, treasurer of the Busy Bee Club and chairman of many social activities.

She proved her ability for acting in the many plays in which she took part. One of the plays in which she showed her ability was the part of the mother in "Love From Bud."

We wish you the best of luck.

JAMES STEIGMEYER

"Where there's a will there's a way"

James Steigmeyer, better known to his classmates as "Jim," has always taken an active part in the affairs of the school and is liked by everyone. He was president of his class during his sophomore and senior years. Jim showed his acting ability by acting in many plays, especially the part he played as police officer in "It Might Happen To You," the senior class play.

We wish you much success in the future.

JOHN STEINMETZ

"Honor and shame from no condition rise: Act well your part, there all the honor lies"

John Steinmetz was always known as "Porky," but lately his change in appearance caused him to be called "Bud." Bud was elected treasurer of the Busy Bee Club for the second semester of the '41-'42 school year. Bud successfully took part in several plays. He also worked hard on committees for business and social affairs.

Success for you always, Bud.

Senior Class History

AFTER EIGHT YEARS of elementary school we were initiated into high school in '39" and although inexperienced we followed our upper classmates' example and made a happy and educational year of it.

In our sophomore year we lost two comrades but gained another. We came through this year with flying colors and were looking forward to the day when we would be called "Jolly Juniors."

Our junior year was a success due to Sister Theresa Marie's coaching and the brilliant teamwork of our class. The banquet, for which we were responsible, was a grand success and we finished the year with a victorious feeling.

Finally we received the title we had longed worked for, that of "Dignified Seniors." Our bazaar surpassed all others and although handicapped by world conditions we made a successful year of it. We leave with fond memories of our "Alma Mater" and with the deepest gratitude toward our pastor, Father Bennett, and our Sisters, Theresa Marie and Anastasia for all the time and labor they have donated for our benefit.

President—James Steigmeyer

Vice-President—Mary Helen Miller

Valedictory

YEAR AFTER YEAR a farewell address is given by a member of the graduating class in this school. This year the bidding of farewell has an added significance. We are beginning to realize that this glorious country of ours is at war and that along with war come new kinds of farewells. Yes, as we wait for our cherished diplomas tonight six of us know that in a short time we shall have said farewell not only to our school but also to our homes. Are we prepared to meet this serious phase of adult life? Our country is fighting to save Democracy. Do we know what is meant by our American way of life? To these questions all of us can confidently answer, yes.

Through the efforts of our principal and teachers we have been made to realize that such qualities as industry, integrity, ability to cooperate and understanding of social and industrial problems seem to be as important as technical skill for success in life. In fact it is stability of character that will play an important part in winning this war and of carrying on the work of reconstruction after the war. As to our American way of life is it not the purpose of democracy to organize society in such a manner that each member may develop his personality primarily through activities designed for the well-being of his fellow members and of society as a whole? This we have actually practiced in our many club affairs and consequently have learned to know and appreciate not only our rights but also our duties.

To you, Very Reverend Father, we are grateful. You have had our best interests at heart during the twelve years that we have attended this school. You have never failed us and we want you to know we appreciate it.

Fellow classmates, though we would like to linger a little longer, we must continue to practice our motto "Forward ever, backward never." With faith, hope, and courage strengthened by our Catholic education we bid you all farewell.

Salutatory

IT IS WITH great happiness that I welcome you here tonight. For four years our class has looked forward to this day. Yes, this desire has helped us master difficult paradigms in Latin and perform other tasks that at the time seemed difficult. We have learned that more difficult tasks await us as we take our places among you, our friends. This has prompted us to resolve to make good by daily giving our best. A number of those who occupied the places we occupy tonight are giving their best for their country and we are proud of them and hope to follow the example they have set. The sacrifices made by those who have made this day possible prompts us to a like resolve. In fact, loyalty demands readiness to serve and that service we can always give to God, our country and our fellowmen no matter where our fields of endeavor may be. Such considerations fill us with zest, courage and enthusiasm to be on our way with the principles of faith as our constant guide and companion. Before we begin this, our last exercise in St. Joseph School, I again extend to each and every one of you a most sincere welcome from the class of '43.

Junior Class History

IN THE AUTUMN of 1938, fifteen pupils entered St. Joseph High School. Ours was the largest class that ever entered our school. Surviving Latin, Algebra and the initiation, we were promoted to the sophomore class.

As eleven sophomores we began our work for success. In the middle of the term Mike Sobasky left to join the army.

After struggling with second year Latin and geometry we were promoted to "Jolly Juniors."

When we entered school in the autumn of 1942 there were ten of us left. About the middle of the year Dean Springer, one of our classmates, joined the navy. This left us with nine pupils.

The one responsibility of every junior class is the staging of the junior-senior banquet. We undertook this responsibility and carried out the event with great success.

Another year is in store for us and we are planning to do our best to boost St. Joseph High School.

President—Lorraine Bushong

Sophomore Class History

IN 1941 five green freshmen entered high school. We found it slightly different from grade school. Our struggles with Latin and Algebra were very difficult. What we might call minor subjects, such as English and health were hard too. Despite all of this we came out victorious in the end.

Then came our sophomore year. We were no longer green, but our battles with second year subjects were just as hard. Second year Latin made our heads swim, and we went around in circles and parallels with geometry. Our sub-battles were fought with history and biology. Our struggles were rewarded, however, with the needed amount of credits to advance to our junior year. We look forward with high hopes to this year as well as to our final goal of "Dignified Seniors."

Freshman Class History

WE, THE freshmen class, entered St. Joseph High School in 1942 seeking to reach our goal at the end of four years of study. Our class consisted of six boys and two girls until one of our well known classmates, Edward Ludwiski, moved. Norbert Muzillo was elected president and Dorothy Ann Hoeffel, vice president.

Senior Class Play

"IT MIGHT HAPPEN TO YOU"

"IT MIGHT Happen To You" was the class play which the seniors of '43 chose to present to the public. It was a well-acted play and kept the audience supplied with plenty of laughs and suspense until the very end of the play.

Charles Mansfield performed his part very well as the well-meaning, meek-mannered henpecked husband, Victor Johnson. He also showed much force of character when he took the part of the gangster, Doc Miller, whom he resembled.

His well-meaning wife, Cora, was played very well by Beverly Clark.

Mary Helen Miller admirably portrayed the part of Cora's young sister, Lois, a pretty girl of eighteen.

Mrs. Hughes, the mother-in-law, was very well acted by Ladonna Shoudel. She was portrayed as a person who always said what she thought.

James Steigmeyer as the Irish policeman, Patrick Sullivan, will always be remembered for his good acting.

Victor's boss, W. H. Galbraith, was portrayed by Dick Riedhart. Richard gave a good performance.

Charles Seifert gave an execellent performance as the gangster, Nick, and will not soon be forgotten.

The part of the tough gangster, Monk Nicolli, was enacted by Leon Gingery. Leon's usual ability for taking any part was shown.

Merle Kendall, the boy who was in love with Lois, was played nicely by Collins Redmond.

Pearl, the "gun-moll," a tough customer, was portrayed by Lorraine Bushong who took her part very well.

The part of Mrs. Meredith, a well-meaning neighbor, was enacted very well by Marion Seifert.

Rita Ann Kobiela took her part well as the boss' wife whose name was Mrs. Galbraith.

Busy Bee Club

DURING THE YEARS of '42 and '43 the Busy Bee Club has completed one of its most profitable years in the history of its organization, both financially and socially. Through the sponsorship of the club we have been able to put into practice many new ideas in our social and business ventures.

The main purpose of the club is to teach its members the basic ideas of parliamentary law and how to conduct themselves at social functions.

The Busy Bee Club elected as its officers for the first semester: president, Leon Gingery; vice-president, Collins Redmond; secretary, Rose Miller; and treasurer, Charles Seifert. The first semester officers were succeeded in the last semester by Rita Ann Kobiela, president; Mary Rose Whittecar, vice-president; James Hoeffel, secretary and Lorraine Bushong, treasurer. These officers have done a splendid job in the management of the club affairs.

As the club has progressed in the past may it continue to do so in the future.

S. J. H. Glee Club

THIS YEAR has been a very enjoyable one for the student members of the Glee Club. It is always an enjoyment for the pupils to sing the good old songs in the "Golden Song Book" or songs of the "gay nineties" and the campus songs.

"A Capital Ship" is always an old favorite and was sung quite a number of times during the past year. With times as they are the students sang many old patriotic songs such as "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "Yankee Doodle," "America, The Beautiful" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Glee Club along with the seventh and eighth graders sang at the play presented for Father's Name Day on March 17, 1943.

Sister Theresa Marie was the pianist and is greatly appreciated by the entire Glee Club.

From A Diary Of Sister Theresa Marie

DEAR DIARY:

May 15, 1954—I received a complimentary ticket to see one of my former pupils, La donna Clara Shoudel, who is now a famous Broadway star. She gave a brilliant performance and in memory I went back to the days when she took part in the school plays which were so successful.

May 21—Today I went to see the Secretary of State in Washington and was greeted by his private secretary. To my surprise it was Mary Helen Miller, one of my students of '43, and I could see that she had found her happiness and success in life.

June 1—I enjoyed a quiet day in the country today. I visited a former pupil, Beverly Clark, who has married a scientific farmer and has settled down to a happy life of raising chickens and five children.

June 23—Today I went into a large bakery in Chicago and had the surprise of my life when I was waited on by the manager, James Steigmeyer. He is said to bake the most appetizing bread in this section of the country.

July 6—While on a tour of the country I happened to pass a beautiful gladiola farm. Stopping to buy a bouquet, I was greeted by Charles Mansfield who told me he owned the farm and in a few years would have enough money to retire.

July 21—I just returned from a trip to South America where I was invited to attend a banquet at the Embassy in Argentina. When I met the U. S. ambassador I was amazed to behold my former pupil, Bud Steinmetz, who is doing very well for himself.

July 31—Yesterday I attended a great concert at Radio City and was entertained by the most famous pianist of his time, Leon Beethoven Gingery. He has found his success and happiness.

August 18—This morning I went into a large department store to buy some presents for my mother and there I saw Charles Seifert. He tells me that he is manager of the store and that he owns many more stores in all parts of the country.

August 30—Today I was out riding and something went wrong with our motor. We took the car to a well known garage and had it fixed by the chief mechanic who was Collins Joseph Redmond. After Collins fixed our car it never broke down again.

Well now my vacation is over and I've seen all my students of '43 on the road to success. They have gone far beyond my fondest dreams for them.

Class Will

WE, THE SENIORS OF 1943, OF ST. JOSEPH'S HIGH SCHOOL, DO HEREBY PUBLISH OUR LAST WILL BEFORE LEAVING SCHOOL.
